

Maleva Ristananda

Maleva is an Indonesian composer, arranger, and pianist. She started her musical journey as a classical pianist at the age of four. Growing up, she enjoys listening to film music and orchestral works. Her compositions carry a sense of mood that depicts a scenario based on her imagination and true stories. In 2016, she arranged and composed for “Skylite”, her school’s musical theatre event, which was held in Jakarta’s largest theatre, “Teater Jakarta”.

Maleva’s works are inspired by her favourite film composers like John Williams, Alexander Desplat, and Hans Zimmer. She is currently pursuing her study in Music Composition and Arranging at LASALLE College of the Arts. In her second year of undergraduate study, Maleva continues to broaden her musical knowledge in writing music.
